PICKED UP THREE

The Steamer Ripogonus Performs a Timely Rescue Act.

The steamer Ripogonus, Capt. Saunders, which arrived at Searsport Saturday night with coal from Norfolk, brought Capt. John Carr, Engineer John Cassidy and the steward of the Five Fathom Lightship Delaware Bay, picked up late Wednesday in a disabled power boat ten miles out to sea. The men were frostbitten and had been adrift 14 hours, the boat having become disabled as they were going ashore to Delaware Breakwater.

Capt. Carr took a last desperate chance for life in stripping off his shirt, soaking it with gasoline and making a torch with which he signalled the Ripogonus. They were taken on board with considerable difficulty in a high sea.

UNDER TROLLEY CAR

Mrs. Josephine Collamore of Rockport Victim of Near Tragedy Sunday Night.

Mrs. Josephine Collamore of Rockport was seriously injured Sunday evening, when a trolley car backed into her, knocking her down and pinning her to the track. The accident occurred about midway between Glen Cove and Oakland Park, near the Judson Wooster residence.

At this point there is a small waiting station, which the Knox County Electric Co. erected for the benefit of its patrons. Three prospective passengers were in waiting there for the Camden bound car, but the motorman didn't catch the signal in season to stop the car until it had gone by about three lengths.

Desiring to accommodate these patrons the motorman rang the bell and allowed the car to drop slowly back so that they might get aboard from the station platform. Two of the persons had crossed the track, but Mrs. Collamore was still between the rails, and when the car struck her she became wedged between the snow scraper and wheel, in such manner that she could not be released until the car was jacked up. She was then placed aboard a trolley car and brought to Sibley Hospital.

Several of her ribs are broken, and there are bruises on one arm and one leg, but her condition yesterday gave much encouragement.

Mrs. Collamore, who is about 54 years of age, is the widow of Ellison Collamore, and has one son, Harry P. Collamore, who was formerly in the employ of the Street Railway.

NO COAL AND NO CAR

General Manager Bird Returns From Unsuccessful Errand—Uncle Sam's Interference Is Bothing the Gas Companies.

Lost, strayed or stolen, one rabbit's foot and a four-leafed clover. Will the finder please return to General Manager William C. Bird of the Knox County Electric Co. and receive his undying gratitude.

Manager Bird went to Boston, New York and Philadelphia last week, with two important errands inscribed on his diary. One was to get coal for the company's gas plant, and the other was to get a new passenger car to replace No. 12, which was demolished in the recent accident at Rockport.

In the same seat with Mr. Bird sat that theatrical hoodoo known as the Jinx, and wherever the general manager went the Jinx went also.

First off he could get no car to suit his purpose, and was calmy informed that it would take four months to get a car built in accordance with the specifications.

In this connection he learned with interest at the J. C. Brill car manufacturing plant in Philadelphia that the one-man cars are coming into use very extensively throughout the country, 80 per cent of last year's deliveries being of that type.

But when it came to getting gas coal Manager Bird found himself up against the real proposition, and he no longer marvelled that several New England plants have already shut down.

The Knox County Electric Co. has at the present time a month's supply on hand, and would have been in comparatively easy sledding if the government had not seized two months' supply which was in transit at the time of the coal strike. No satisfaction could be derived from the shippers, who claimed that their skids were clear after Uncle Sam had stepped in.

The trouble seems to be that most of the gas coal was shipped to the westward, and now that it is there, and the strike is over, the manufacturers prefer to buy coal in their own territory, where they can get it much more cheaply than they would have been able to from an Eastern source. Mr. Bird was credibly informed that there are 12,000 carloads of gas coal on the outskirts of Chicago, doing no good to anybody, but which could not be brought back to eastern customers without costing a prohibitive price.

Manager Bird has partial promise of three carloads, but with no guarantee that the government will not seize it, as the government is still in the seizing business. Practically all of the New England gas companies are in the same predicament, and all of them are straining every nerve, and pulling every string, to get coal. With a month's leeway, and the partial promise above referred to, Manager Bird still has hopes that it will not become necessary to close the local plant.

Mr. Bird's troubles did not end with his vain errands, for he was a passenger on the Saturday night train which was due to arrive here at 9:20 p. m., but which did not reach Rockland until 2:30 Sunday morning.

Outside of Portland one of the baggage cars "froze up" and had to be detached. At South Warren a tire on one of the locomotive wheels showed signs of quitting its job. The engineer undertook to make Rockland, but at Wadsworth street, Thomaston, the train came off altogether, and there the train remained for several long and dreary hours.

Mr. Bird's fellow passengers included Rev. Hily A. Allen, Jr., Sumner, Frank S. Sherman of the Eastern Steamship Lines and Eugene M. O'Neil, proprietor of the Thorndike Hotel. This happy quartet was minded to walk up town and engage transportation to Rockland, but in the belief that an early start might be made, they clung to the train.

Mail Boat Beatrice Not Heard From Since She Left For Matineus Thursday Night—Three Persons On Board.

The 34-foot power boat Beatrice, has been carrying mail and passengers between Rockland, Matineus and Cribhaven, since Capt. W. C. Butman went to Massachusetts on his vacation, is believed to have foundered Thursday night, after leaving Owl's Head for the islands.

There were but three persons on board—Burton Wallace of Matineus, who owned and commanded the little craft; Leo Hupper of Port Clyde and Edwin Ames of Matineus. The prospect that they may still be alive and marooned on some island, is so very slight as to be practically hopeless.

The Beatrice came off from Matineus last Thursday, but on account of ice conditions in Rockland harbor, made her landings at Owl's Head, and the mail was brought to Rockland by Rural Carrier Harold W. Philbrook.

The boat left Owl's Head on its return trip at 8:30 Thursday night, with 17 or 18 sacks of mail. Postmaster Donohue advised Capt. V. Vanne against starting out at night, under the prevailing conditions, but the latter said that there was plenty of clothing on board, and with a cabin for shelter, he and his companions could make the trip without difficulty. The wind was blowing freshly from the northwest when the Beatrice left Owl's Head, and later shifted to the southwest.

It was not known here until Sunday that the mail boat had not reached Matineus. This disheartening news came in the form of a telephone message from Matineus Rock, asking if the boat had left here.

All sorts of theories are advanced as to what probably happened, but one most generally accepted is that the craft may have struck an ice floe and become so badly damaged that it could not be kept afloat. The Beatrice had two engines. The boat's carrying capacity was about 25 persons. There was 15 aboard on a recent trip to this port.

Capt. Wallace was about 23 years of age, and served in the Navy Reserve Force at this port during the war. He leaves a wife and one child, Mrs. Wallace is now at Matineus, but until very recently had been employed at Angell's Cafe in this city.

Leo Hupper was about 18 years of age and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Hupper, who are at present residing on Matineus.

Edwin Ames was 16 or 17 years of age, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ames of Matineus.

LIME SYNDICATE

Reorganized As Rockland & Rockport Lime Corporation To Refund Matured Bonds.

The Rockland & Rockport Lime Co. has been reorganized for the purpose of refunding its securities, the first mortgage bonds having reached maturity Feb. 1st. The new corporation is nearly identical with the old except that it bears the name of Rockland & Rockport Lime Corporation.

The capital stock is $2,552,000, of which $850,000 is common, $1,115,000 is first preferred and $587,500 is second preferred. The par value of shares is $100. The officers are the same as before—G. B. Wood, president; H. A. Buffum, treasurer, and A. S. Littlefield, clerk, with these officers also directors.

The corporation reports a satisfactory lime market, the demand for building lime being especially good in view of the strenuous weather conditions. There is also a good demand for agricultural lime. The corporation has 20 kilns afire.

POLITICAL SHORT NOTES

Petitions to place the name of Herbert Hoover on the Democratic ballot at the Presidential preference primary in Michigan April 5, have been received by the secretary of State.

Mr. Bryan hasn't forgotten, of course, that when, as a candidate, he preached "let the people rule," the people promptly responded by ruling him out—Minneapolis Tribune.

Democrats are getting mighty little satisfaction from the college straw vote on the peace treaty. The final count stood more than two to one against the covenant as it was written and urged by Mr. Wilson.

The insinuation of Democrats, that Republicans in the Senate refuse to compromise is an attempt at deception. The Republicans made an offer of compromise when they submitted their reservations and voted to ratify the treaty with those reservations. It was the Democratic membership that refused the compromise and defeated ratification.

John Kendrick Bangs has withdrawn from the contest for the Republican nomination for congressman from the First Maine district. In his statement the humorist declares that this decision is made necessary by the fact that his numerous lecture engagements would interfere with his making an active campaign in the district.

The National Republican Club of New York urges that an anti-Rad plank be included in the national party platform. Of course that will be done, and the candidate in the convention who comes out the strongest against the substitution of government by force for government by law should win the nomination. He would be the best vote getter the party could place before the people.

Replying to a statement by Gov. Edwards of New Jersey that William Jennings Bryan sought a "death harmony" in the Democratic party with San Francisco as the "morgue," Mr. Bryan said Friday he hoped the New Jersey executive would "keep on talking," as "no champion of the liquor traffic can talk for long without insulting the conscience and sense of decency of the country." "The more Governor Edwards talks," said Mr. Bryan, "the more ashamed Chairman Cummins will be of giving respectability to his candidacy for the Presidential nomination and the more certain it will be that prominent Democrats will have other engagements when invited to his meetings.

Just like the colleges—Camden and Rockland High school athletes have disagreed, and athletic relations have been suspended—until the breach is healed.—Kennebec Journal.

John P. Hale believed to have been Maine's oldest printer in continuous service died last week at his home in Auburn. He was 81 and had been 63 consecutive years at the case.

THE BURIAL OF SIR JOHN MOORE
Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note,
As his corse to the rampart we hurried,
Not a soldier discharged his farewell shot
O'er the grave, where our hero was buried.

We hurried him darkly at dead of night,
The turf with our bayonets we hurried,
By the struggling moonbeam's misty light,
And the lanterns dimly burning.

Few and short were the prayers we said,
And we spoke not a word of sorrow,
But we steadfastly gazed on the face of the dead,
And we bitterly thought on the morrow.

No useless coffin confined his breast,
Nor in sheet nor in shroud we bound him—
But he lay, like a warrior taking his rest,
With his martial cloak around him!

We thought as we hollowed his narrow bed,
And smoothed down his lonely pillow,
That the foe or the stranger would tread o'er
His head,
And we far away on the billow.

Lightly they'll talk of the spirit that's gone,
And of his cold ashes upraised him—
But nothing he'll reck if they'll let him sleep
On
In the grave where a Briton has laid him!

But half of our heavy task was done,
When the clock tolled the hour for retiring;
And we heard the distant and random gun
That the foe was sullenly firing—
Slowly and sadly we laid him down,
From the field of his fame fresh and gory—
We carved not a line, we raised not a stone,
But we left him alone with his glory.

—Charles Wolfe.

THE UN-DEPORTED

America consists of Americans and of nothing but Americans. Those who within the past few years, have come to think of America as a vast mixture of languages, races and clashing doctrines, have had the wrong viewpoint. They have been thinking of America as a place and not as an ideal.

Millions of immigrants have crossed the ocean from the Old World. They have reached our shores, but many of them have never reached America. On the other hand, many of our native born are not now and never have been Americans. There is no such thing as an "American Red." There is no such thing as "American I. W. W."

An American is a man who feels American, thinks American and acts American—no matter where he was born.

America has plenty of room and a warm welcome for those who wish to become Americans, but it cannot spare a single square foot of soil to those who intend to continue un-American and anti-American. Fortunately, we can deport some of the most noxious of these intruders, but these are but a small percentage of the unit. What about the remainder?

There is but one answer: They must be Americanized.

This, however, is not a task for the Department of Justice, not even for Congress and the various state legislatures; it is a task for the rank and file of American citizens. It is a task of education plus, and of influence plus; it is really a task of moral coercion. It is a task for swift and energetic action, wherein American citizens in all their vast numbers must seize opportunities when they exist, and create opportunities when they do not exist, to Americanize all who come within their own circles or else to cast them out of their circles.

It is no time to talk of "broad-minded sympathy" or of "conciliation," where a great question of right and wrong is involved. You cannot "conciliate" evil any more than you can "conciliate" a conflagration.

The matter comes squarely home to use here in Knox county. Wherever there is any group of people of foreign birth, the product of centuries of foreign environment and thought, lies the task of making over every such person into an American citizen—not an American voter, but one who thinks in the natural terms of an American individual. The tremendous responsibility now laid upon our public schools cannot be overstated. The schools of Rockland and Knox county must not be suffered to deteriorate. The school teacher is the perpetual defender of the advanced trenches on the firing line.

With its issue of Jan. 31 the New York Herald disappeared from the newspaper firmament, where it has shone with conspicuous brilliancy since its beginnings in 1835, when the elder James Gordon Bennett brought it into existence as the bitter rival of the New York Sun. And it is the Sun into whose embraces the Herald now sinks. It was a great newspaper, known throughout the world, down to its latest days, in which it had somewhat declined, a fact due to the advancing years and then the death of the younger Bennett. The Sun, with which it is merged, is and always has been one of the giants among the New York dailies. In the merger of the two papers their owner, that remarkable Maine boy, Frank A. Munsey, seems likely to develop one of the notably great newspapers of these notable great times.

What is known in printing circles as a new dress now distinguishes the issues of The Courier-Gazette. That means that the lines of type which for the past few years have made up the reading columns, and which had grown somewhat hilly through the gradual wearing out of the brass matrices in which the lines were cast, are now made from brand-new matrices, producing sharp, clean printing that is a delight to the eye. Not only that, but in the selection of the size and contour of the type—what is technically known as the face—we think a happy result is attained so that the columns of the paper present a handsomer appearance than they have shown in a long time. We hope our readers like it.

When spring weather inspires the hens to begin laying again, the price of eggs will go down, and Mr. Palmer will take the credit for reduction of the high cost of living. Same procedure, also, when green grass increases the milk supply. It was last August the Department of Justice began its campaign for reduction of the cost of living.

The man who was three times repudiated by the country is still the most powerful man in the Democratic party. He may be nominated again, in which event he can claim the distinction of being the only man who has been four times rejected by the people of the country.

POLICEMEN GET A BOOST

But Chemical Engine Co. Was Overlooked In the New Salary Resolve—Teachers' Fate Left With School Board.

A salary resolve for the coming year, carrying the rather imposing total of $32,424 and representing an increase over last year in practically every instance, was passed by the City Government last night, but not until alderman Sullivan had insisted upon "living wages" for the members of the police force. As the result of his earnest plea the salary of the deputy marshal and four patrolmen was increased from $1100 to $1200 each.

A petition from the city teachers, asking for 33 1-3 per cent increase in salaries, accompanied by the school board's recommendation of a 25 per cent increase, was received, but the alderman felt that the teachers' salaries came properly within the jurisdiction of the school board, and should be provided for in the regular school budget. And in the end the matter was left with the school board. Mayor Thorndike was confined to his home by a severe cold, and the upper board was presided over by the chairman of that body, Alderman John M. Richardson. Councilman W. R. Eskine occupied the chair in the lower board, in the absence of President Harnden.

The purchasing committee was authorized by Alderman Titus' order to buy 1500 feet of fire hose.

Alderman Daggett presented an order for the acceptance of a new 2-rod street running 400 feet northerly from Gay street, thence westerly to Broadway. A public hearing was ordered for the night of Feb. 20.

Alderman Clement presented the matter of the teachers' salaries, prefaced by the following petition to the City Government:

"We, the undersigned teachers of the public schools, while recognizing the teacher's profession as a sacred trust, contend that the teacher's remuneration shall be such as to furnish maintenance, provide means for self-improvement and make provision for old age. Therefore, after careful and serious consideration, we present the following petition: Inasmuch as we find that our present salary under existing conditions is far below a living wage, we earnestly ask that an increase of 33 1-3 per cent be added to our salaries, this increase to date from Jan. 1, 1920.

(Signed) Harriette G. Trask, Eleanor L. Griffith, Lena Miller, Ethel L. Howard, Anna M. Hall, Caroline Fuller, Ruth E. Staples, Harriet E. O'Brien, Walter G. Taylor, Marion McCorquidale, Eva D. Snow, Ida E. Carey, Madeline Dalziel, Lena Thorndike, Miriam L. Shafer, Mary E. Hall, Elmer R. Bigger, Ada Bell Kennan, Anna E. Coughlin, Margaret A. Buttomer, Monica C. Gregory, Anna C. Corquidale, Cora E. Hall, Elsie V. Leonard, Elizabeth A. Healey, Augusta Healey, Madeline Bird, Jeanette Simmons, Phyllis G. Prescott, Shirley H. Moody, Ellen J. Cochran, Maude A. Smith, Coda S. Burgham, A. J. Thorne, Jeanette D. McConchie, Eliot R. Duncan, Margaret George Ruggles, Lena F. Cleveland, Mae Perry."

In pursuance of the above petition the school board recommended an increase of 25 per cent, to become effective Feb. 1, 1920.

"We are fully cognizant," says the school board, "of the immediate need for an adequate adjustment in the compensation of the teachers in our schools. This step is taken with the steadfast belief that school privileges should be safeguarded to the children of Rockland by an adequate salary schedule." The report is signed by Jesse A. Tolman, Clarence S. Beveridge, Robert V. Stevenson, William D. McKee, Frank A. Richardson, C. Doherty.

Alderman Clement moved that the petition be returned to the school board, with the recommendation that it adjust salaries to the best advantage.

BIG STONE WENT UNDER

The cap stone, which was quarried at Stonington for the Ashton Memorial in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., passed under the Wadsworth street bridge in Thomaston yesterday without turning on its journey to New York State. The Thomaston bridge is said to be the lowest in the Maine Central system, and after the big block of granite had been brought to this port on the steam lighter Ajax some days ago, the discovery was made that it was too high by eight inches to pass under the bridge. Alterations were made to the special "well car" which had been sent here for the cap stone, and the granite was so lowered that it went under the bridge yesterday slick as goose grease.

The stone weighed 26 tons and measured 15 feet square by 18 inches thick. After the stone had been quarried three expert cutters were employed to shape it. Some of the scroll work and columns for this memorial required six weeks of steady cutting.

THIRD THEATRE POSSIBLE

A. S. Black, With Sixty Houses and Privileges, In His String, Drops Interesting Hint As To Rockland.

On return to this city Saturday A. S. Black announced that all of the theatrical interests with which he is connected east of New York have been reorganized under one holding company known as the Black New England Theatres, Inc. The corporation was organized under the laws of Delaware with a capital of $10,000,000, and is the largest corporation of that character in the New England territory.

Alfred S. Black of Rockland is president, John A. Black of New York is vice president and H. A. Mintz, a prominent Boston attorney is secretary. Mr. Mintz was Mr. Black's guest in this city for the weekend, and several New Yorkers were also here in conference with him. The object of the conference was not divulged.

Important developments in Mr. Black's moving picture campaign, since his last visit to Rockland are briefly summarized thus: Fort Kent and Van Buren in Aroostook county have been added to his circuit; the contract is let for a new theatre with a seating capacity of 2000 in Taunton, Mass.; a house is to be built in Arcadia, I. with a seating capacity of 1200; three more theatres have been taken over in Connecticut, New Hampshire and Massachusetts, one of them a very large house.

The circuit now embraces nearly 60 theatres or privileges, and by April work will have commenced on more than a million dollars' worth of new construction.

"Now," said Mr. Black smilingly, "I know you are about to ask me what the Rockland situation is. You may tell The Courier-Gazette readers that we are going ahead with the plans as already announced and if anything on a more extensive scale. I cannot say now just what we shall decide upon, but I will say this, that we may build a third house."

It has been currently reported that Esquire Theatre was to be remodelled into a much larger house, with a new entrance and the above remark by Mr. Black conveys a hint at something even better.

Mr. Black confirmed the report that he is to have a central office in Boston, and that the accounting department of the Rockland office—an exceptionally competent one, by the way—will be transferred to that city. A local office will be maintained, but the bulk of the rapidly accumulating business affairs will be transacted in the Boston office as soon as quarters can be obtained.

THOSE LEAGUE RESERVATIONS

Viscount Grey Tells England That the Republican Senate Does Right To Protect America.

Nothing has occurred to clear the League of Nations of one of its banks of fog, more happily than the letter addressed to the London Times by Viscount Grey, just returned to Great Britain from the United States where he spent four years as British Ambassador at Washington. The insistence of President Wilson and his roped-in Senators has been that if the League reservations are adopted England and France will refuse to accept them, thus repudiating the peace treaty with Germany, and creating an impossible task of negotiating a new one. Viscount Grey makes it clear that the British people should be only too glad to accept the reservations, which while they in no way destroy the efficacy of the League of Nations, make it possible for America in joining hands with the league, to preserve its free life under the constitution upon which its government is grounded.

The text of Viscount Grey's communication reads:

"Sir: Nothing, it seems to me, is more desirable in international politics than a good understanding between the democracy of the United States and the democracy of the League of Nations, and the democracies of Great Britain and the self-governing dominions, and I hope we may add Ireland, on the other. Nothing would be more disastrous than a misunderstanding and estrangement."

"There are some aspects of the position in the United States with regard to the league of nations which are not wholly understood in Great Britain. In the hope that as a result of my recent stay in Washington I may be able to make that position better understood, I venture to offer the following observations. They represent only my own personal opinion and nothing more, and they are given simply as those of a private individual."

Impatience and Disappointment. "In Great Britain and the allied countries there is naturally impatience and disappointment at the delay of the United States in ratifying the peace treaty and the covenant of the league of nations. It is perhaps not so generally recognized here that there is also great impatience and disappointment in the United States. Nowhere is the impasse caused by the deadlock between the President and the Senate more keenly regretted than in the United States, where there is a strong and even urgent desire in the public opinion to see a way out of that impasse found which will be both honorable to the United States and helpful to the world. It would be well to understand the real difficulties with which the people of the United States have been confronted. In the clear light of right understanding what seemed the disagreeable features of the situation will assume a more favorable and intelligent aspect.

"Nor is it true to say that the United States is moved solely by self-interest to the disregard of higher ideals. In the United States, as in other countries, there are cross-currents and back waters in the national life and motives. When the nation was roused by the war these cross-currents and back waters were swept into the main stream of action and obliterated as they were in other countries. With the reaction of peace and more normal conditions they are again apparent as they are in other countries. But an American might fairly reply that whereas the self-interest in other countries is a selfishness, conquered in the war is now apparent in the desire to secure special territorial advantages, the self-interest of the United States takes the less aggressive form of desiring to keep itself free from undesirable entanglements, and that it does not lie with other countries to reproach the United States."

The Underlying Causes. "It would be well, therefore, for the reasons both of truth and expediency, to concentrate our attention on the real underlying causes of the Senate's insistence upon reservations, in ratifying the covenant of the league of nations. "1.—There is in the United States a real conservative feeling for the traditional policy, and one of those traditions consecrated by the advice of Washington is to abstain from foreign, and particularly from European entanglements. Even for nations which have been used to European alliances the league of nations is felt to be something of a new departure. "This is still more true for the United States, which has hitherto held aloof from all outside alliances. For the league of nations is not merely a plunge into the unknown, but a plunge into something which has historical advice and traditions have hitherto positively disapproved. It does not say that it will not make this new departure. It recognizes that world conditions have changed, but it desires time to consider to feel its way and to act with caution. Hence this desire for some qualification and reservation."

MURRAE-WATTS. Lincoln L. McRae of this city and Miss Athleen Watts of Warren were married yesterday at the home of Rev. J. S. Crossland, pastor of the Methodist Church. They were attended by Ellis Watts, a brother of the bride, and Miss Gertrude McRae, a sister of the bridegroom. Also present at the ceremony were two of the couple's most intimate friends, E. C. Boody and Louis Rosenbloom. The couple left on the afternoon train for Portland. Mr. McRae is a traveling salesman in the employ of John Bird Co., and graduated in 1908 from Rockland High school where he was one of the most brilliant athletes that school ever produced. He was in France with the A. E. F. The bride graduated from Warren High school in 1914 and afterward taught school. The past year she has been employed in the suit department of the Fuller-Cobb-Davis store.

A dog which ran out at the head of Tillson avenue and barked at the John Bird Co.'s motor truck yesterday got the surprise of his life. The truck went over a jounce at that precise moment and the dog's chain of the tail board caught him fairly around the neck. Down the avenue the truck went, the chauffeur wholly in ignorance of the fact that the dog was being dragged like one of Tom Mix's victims, giving the High School yell.

In Portland yesterday an operation was performed upon Rev. Philip A. Allen, Jr., for an abscess of the ear. Several days must elapse according to the surgeons' report last night before a definite statement can be made as to the outcome. Mr. Allen is at the Eye & Ear Infirmary.

Ralph W. Richards, who recently retired from the firm of Richards & Perry Bros., is about to re-engage in the market business in the Farmington store, which until recently has been used as an annex by the Veazie Hardware Co.

Walter ("Chug") Merrill is employed at the Rockland & Portland Lime Corporation's coal pocket at the Northend, under the direction of Commodore Walker. Solicitous friends are hoping that the snow will not get in his eyes.

Yesterday was Candlemas Day. "If Candlemas be fair and bright, Winter will take another flight." The day was cloudy. Those who believe otherwise can think otherwise. One or the other is sure to hit it.

A. I. Mather, the florist, believes he has the distinction of having drawn the first gallon of kerosene ever sold over a Rockland counter. At that time he was clerking for the late Leander Weeks who was in business in the store afterward occupied by the late W. J. Perry, shoe dealer. The kerosene found a quick sale at $2.50 a gallon. Candles and camphene were used principally for illuminating purposes prior to that time.

Quite a number of the students have joined without any solicitation, and each graduate voluntarily "boosts" the school. Mr. Barbour says it would not be surprising if 1000 students take his course the coming year.

THE ROCKPORT INVESTIGATION

Big Crowd Hears Testimony Concerning Accident At Which Two Were Killed and Others Injured.

A public hearing held by the Public Utilities Commission yesterday afternoon in the Town hall at Rockport, for the purpose of making inquiries in regard to the recent trolley accident, was largely attended. All of the members of the Commission were present: Benj. F. Cleaves of Biddeford, Herbert W. Trafton of Portland, Elmer E. Parkman of Augusta, Chief Inspection Commissioner examined the witnesses and Alan L. Bird of Rockland represented the Knox County Electric Co. Our regular Rockport correspondent sends the following report of the hearing:

The first witness called was Elmer B. Crockett conductor on the car on which the accident occurred. He testified they went on at 5 o'clock. This was their third trip. There had been no trouble through the day in braking the car. Witness gave bell to motorman to stop at Church street and realized after leaving the street that the car was not under control. Trolley came off when car struck the curve. The car was on time and carried nine passengers. At time of accident he was standing in the rear vestibule and went over with the car. To the best of his knowledge the braking power of the car was all right. They had gone over that grade twice before that night and he thought motorman Perry used good judgment.

Dr. George L. Crockett of Rockland, medical examiner, testified that he found the car on its side and up against the Y. M. C. A. building. Mrs. Stanford was under the car and Motorman Perry was under the forward part of the car. When he examined it and it was explained to him by Supt. Chisholm that the car was "in neutral." For some reason motorman did not control his car.

Supt. Valentine Chisholm was then called. Arrived at scene of accident about 11:20. Motormen are put on with one passenger for two weeks. Perry, the motorman who was killed, was a lineman and was being broken in evenings and Sundays. He was 29 years old, stout, smart and bright, and had worked for the company three or four months. John T. Berry, instructor for rides around with the new men. There was no trouble with braking that car, to the knowledge of the witness. Car had been in service about 20 years. Cars are inspected once or twice a week. A pair of wheels had been put in about three weeks before. A man of ordinary intelligence would be capable of running a car after two weeks' instruction.

Ralph Wentworth, employed as machinist for the company, testified that he found the car well stove up and off the trucks. The body is not fastened through trucks on that kind of a car. The four wheel cars are fastened. Car was just as it came from the factory. Dec. 27 car was in the barn for a set of wheels.

W. C. Bird, general manager of the company, arrived at scene of accident about 12 o'clock. Corroborated Mr. Chisholm's testimony. Attempt must have been made to reverse car. Had Inspector Berry drive a similar car that night at good speed, and there were no signs of slippery rails. Thinks that car must have been going at 30 miles an hour. The fact that trucks went down the track demonstrated the rails were in good condition. Thinks power was applied but motorman must have lost his head. Thinks car was going at good rate of speed. Two weeks' experience is sufficient for some to run car on such places.

Theo M. Strong, a lineman, who had worked with Perry, was called. Said he was a good fellow, of ordinary intelligence. Had never noticed anything peculiar about him.

Alton Winchenpaw, motorman, with whom Perry had been running and receiving instructions, testified that he had driven with him between Camden and Rockland. Last time he was with him was Thanksgiving. Perry said he had learned previous to that to reverse power.

Jerry E. Doak, motorman, testified that he knew Perry and helped break him in and had instructed him in reversing.

King Solomon Temple Chapter has its regular meeting Thursday night.

There will be a Country Club dance Friday night with special music by four pieces.

The Oakland Park Band will give another sacred concert in Park Theatre next Sunday afternoon.

Class 26 of the Methodist Sunday school will meet with Mrs. Mary Gregory, Camden street, Thursday evening.

The Board of Managers of the Home for Aged Women will meet with Mrs. Nancy Sleeper, Spring street, Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

Howard E. Berry, who is in the service of the War Council, stationed at Hoboken, N. J., arrived last night for a day's visit with his family.

Mrs. Adelaide C. Bird has bought the E. B. Russell cottage and 20 acres of land at Ballard Park. The sale was made through the L. W. Benner real estate agency.

Black & Gay, cannery, have finished their apple season. With a very successful pack, and are now canning baked beans at the Thomaston factory. The factories at Wiscasset and Brooks have been closed.

Frank Hollowell has been appointed warrant officer. Army Mine Planter service and assigned as second mate of the Gen. R. T. Frank, at present undergoing repairs at Hoboken, N. J. This makes four officers from this locality on the Frank. Repairs are expected to be completed about the first of March, after which she will return to the Boston district.

Mrs. Eltona Little leaves the last of the week for Amherst, N. S., where she joins her daughter, Miss Mildred Little, who has been practicing osteopathy there, but will be about to locate in Sidney. Mrs. Little will visit her daughter about three months. Friday evening a picnic supper was given in her honor at the home of Mrs. H. N. McDougall. There were 12 guests.

versing car. Perry had handled eight wheel cars all right, and could brake car with air.

Foster Fales, motorman, testified that Perry worked with him eight nights on main line, and used good judgment. Considered him competent to run car. Never saw him attempt to reverse car. Perry said that Doak instructed him in reversing car.

John T. Berry, inspector for the company, testified that he worked for the company on and off for 25 years. Perry was "turned in" as motorman by Doak and Fales and witness took him out and gave him final instruction. He rode all over the main line and to Warren with him and considered him one of the best young men in their employ. All four-wheeled cars are bolted. Eight-wheeled cars not bolted. Thinks Perry attempted to stop at Church street and lost control of car and of himself. Rails were in good condition. No frost on rails that night. Inspector Berry stated that he never saw the car. Instructions about three weeks before.

Holly Bennett, electrician, was passenger on car with Perry on previous trip. Rode outside with Perry. Thought he handled car very carefully and used no unusual speed. Mr. Bennett said that when the car rounded the corner near the Y. M. C. A. on the trip referred to the headlight had flashed onto the glassed-in verandah of Charles S. Gardner's residence. "That's a nice place," witness remarked. "I'd like to go right down through that house." Perry is alleged to have replied, "Witness got the impression that Perry meant he would like to go through it with the car."

H. M. Poland, passenger on the ill-fated car, No. 12, stated that they left Camden about five minutes late. Made no stops after leaving Camden and at no time were going at a high rate of speed. Realized no danger until car began to tip. No passengers got on after leaving Camden. Car started to tip very slowly. Lights went out. He was the first one to speak. Spoke to Mrs. Poland and she made no answer. Mrs. Poland said that she saw the car enter the vestibule and helped get others out and suggested ringing fire bell for assistance.

Miss Thordis Heisted testified that she got on car at Camden. Did not notice car stop at Church street. There was nothing unusual happened up to time of the car tipping.

Lewis Simmons rode with Perry on a previous trip from the car barn to Maverick Square. Perry told him the car came near getting away with him coming into Rockport and he caught it.

Joseph Cox, who lives on Central street, came to his front door to lock it for the night and saw the car coming and said: "That car is coming faster than I should want to ride," and immediately exclaimed, "My God, she's tipping over." He stated that he thought the car usually came slowly.

County Attorney H. L. Withee, who had asked C. E. Rhoades, an expert machinist, and the second Selectman of Rockport to examine the car and take measurements, questioned Mr. Rhoades and said that he examined the car the morning after the accident and measured king bolts. One was loose and measured 5 1/4 inches and the other 5 inches. There were no chains or keepers. Thinks some provision should be made for holding trucks.

Thomas Hawken, former general manager of the road, testified that he never knew of a runaway car on that grade. He explained the different kinds of trucks. Thought the car must have been going at the rate of 40 miles an hour when he made examinations the day following the accident. Thinks motormen should be thoroughly examined and the minimum time should be two weeks.

Sheriff J. Crosby Hobbs called the witnesses and Judge Benj. F. Cleaves told the object of the hearing, which was not to make decisions or adjust claims, but to get at the facts of the case and to make, if possible, conditions safer for the public. He left a fine impression as to the purpose for which the meeting was called and the object of the Public Utilities Commission.

The chorus choir of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kelley B. Crie, Middle street hill and enjoyed picnic supper, with lobster stew and other good things. Thirty-two were seated at the table. The evening was spent in rehearsing and "rehearsing" the new hobbits of Hiram and Ernest Crie.

WIGHT'S

We were pleased to receive orders by mail today from Vineland, N. J., Florence, Arizona, and Cleveland, Ohio. This last order was for Confectioner's Sugar, and the lady says she reads our "ads" in this paper and notices we have these things and that she can buy a pound of her grocer once in a while. Here at home our customers do not get it "once in a while," they get it regularly. Last week 800 pounds of Confectioner's Sugar went out, one pound to a customer. If people in other States order goods of us by mail successfully, surely people in this county can. We do not think it remarkable if they order CLAREMONT COFFEE—the best coffee sold in this section—and we can prove it; or our BAKING CREAM—the most perfect substitute for Cream Tartar ever made—white as snow, strictly pure, makes better and whiter biscuits than pure Cream Tartar. We can prove that also. As we say, we would not think it remarkable if we had mail orders for these two articles, as we mail them everywhere, but to order Sugar from a little one horse concern down here on the tail end of Maine, makes us think that perhaps we are out of the dub-scavenger-cut-price-store class, as we are sometimes called for telling the truth. We believe the people have confidence in a truth telling store. We shall continue to tell you the truth as we see it, in regard to the cost of merchandise in this line, whether you do business with us or not.

Sam Heckle says that he once raised a bed of Horse Radish that could trot a mile in 2.08 on a kite-shaped track. We have one that will beat that—dehydrated—never turns dark, always ready to use—20 cents for a bottle that will last till the 4th of July and then it will be so hot you won't need it.

If the wood chuck comes out of his hole today he will notice in our windows TWINK—the famous lux dye at 9 cents a package, 3 for 25 cents.

Anyway, whether it is an open winter or not, sugar is all ready for 5 pound Sugar Cards up to No. 1539.

We suggest buying California Seeded Raisins, Yellow Eye, Pea and Red Kidney Beans, as they will be high all summer. Get our prices first as we think you can save 25 per cent today of these goods.

Ivory Soap, P. & G. Naphtha, Fairy, 2 for 17 cents.

And now for a line from Mother Goose—

Milk-man, Milk-man, where have you been?
 In Buttermilk Channel up to my chin;
 I sold it to WIGHT, the cut-price man,
 And he sells it again at sixteen a can.

The Evangelist meetings at the Methodist church are well attended. The stone of H. L. Robbins caught fire Thursday evening but by instant action on the telephone it was quickly extinguished, with but little damage. Mrs. P. B. Martin, who has been in Silsby Hospital the past three weeks has returned home in a very much improved condition.

One of our R. F. D. drivers made his trip the coldest day of the season and for many years, with nothing but a pair of cotton gloves on his hands and did not freeze them but did freeze his face.

Niven Crawford is doing a big business on the Jesse Calderwood lot.

The branch bank of the Security Trust Co. will be located in the H. D. Robbins building.

PARK THEATRE

A melodrama with even more startling features than were seen in "The White Heather" is presented today by the same producer, Maurice Tourneur, under the name of "The Life Line." It is founded on the world famous melodrama of the sea, "The Romy Rye," which had a big run at a Drury Lane Theatre, in London. See the storm-driven ocean liner crash on the rocks—the panic of passengers—the launching of the lifeboats—the daring rescues. See the great London fire scenes—the breathless excitement the terror—the pathos—the soul-stirring heroism. See the inner life of the stony camp—the ways of the underworld—the shameless intrigues of profligate wealth. See a heart-warming romance of young love, which blends the beauty and the passions of life into a stirring entertainment that you can't soon forget.

Scenes of rare beauty are shown in "The Country Cousin," which is offered for Wednesday and Thursday with Elaine Hammerstein as the star. The company practically lived at a sumptuous estate on Long Island for four days and in the course of the picture the private beach, pier, steam yacht, exquisite sunken gardens, etc., were used. "The Country Cousin," is a keen and searching analysis of life that contrasts the more modest and honest American ideals of several years ago, and the looser and more dissipated social life to be seen in many large cities at the present time.

The spirit of the order older is typified by a self-reliant young woman from a small town in the West who meets and is contrasted with a group of sophisticated pleasure seekers of New York, summering at a country place near the metropolis. Here the young niece of Nancy Price, the country cousin, falls into the hands of a designing father who has left his first wife and married a mercenary parvenue. But the Country Cousin, resourceful and determined, follows her niece to the city and after weathering many difficulties, disheartening and embarrassing, she plies her traits of inherent sweetness and purity of purpose to the ultimate undoing of the intriguers.

A delightful ride was enjoyed by twenty-four young people of the village Friday evening. The party went to Rockland and attended Park Theatre. Although the night was a very cold one, the ride was immensely enjoyed. The trip was arranged by Mrs. Bertha Holbrook and those invited to go extend to her a hearty vote of appreciation and thanks for her interest in the young people.

A splendid little young people's club has been organized in the village and all clear-thinking parents as well as all citizens cannot be too appreciative of the generous and wholehearted manner in which Mrs. Liette Rollins is helping our coming generations. A decidedly marked improvement has been noticed in our young people of late and a hearty vote of thanks should also be extended her for the net of influence she is casting about them.

The Sunshine Club met with Miss Ruth Chandler Saturday evening. A very pleasant evening was passed.

A box sociable was held in the chapel last Thursday evening, it being the monthly social of the Epworth League. Although only a small number were present a good time was enjoyed.

Bad colds are prevalent in nearly every family in town.

The teacher cooked a warm dinner for them each day, either soup or fish chowder while each Monday some of the parents sent in baked beans, which should be done in all schools during the winter term if no other.

"It's the Bean"

Selected, Blended, Roasted
according to the
La Touraine Formula

Roasting

IT is said good cooks are "born," not "made." But we do know that intuition plays a big part in good cooking.

The noted chef knows to an instant when a roast is perfectly done. And the good coffee roaster knows, to a fraction of a minute, just when the coffee is perfect.

He knows the exact moment when the proper percentage of moisture has been extracted from the coffee bean.

La Touraine Coffee is always perfectly roasted. The greatest care, combined with exacting watchfulness; the most up-to-date and modern roasting cylinders, together with years of experience, give to La Touraine its rich color, its distinctive flavor and real coffee-goodness.

The fine coffees that are in the famous La Touraine blend are brought to perfection by roasting standards called for in the famous La Touraine formula.

About thirty-six members of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church enjoyed a sleigh-ride to Cushing last Friday night and were most royally entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Fogarty. There was a good deal of spirited bidding on the box lunches which were sold at auction. It is said that someone paid $2 for his supper. In spite of the zero weather a good time was reported.

Miss Katherine Angerson, who has been teaching in Montclair, N. J., arrived home Saturday.

Supt. C. O. Turner attended the meeting of superintendents at Augusta last week.

At the Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning the following people were baptized: Mrs. C. O. Turner, Miss Christine Turner, Miss Ruth Lermond and Miss Mildred Dowling. These people were received into full membership: Mrs. C. O. Turner, Mrs. Bowdoin Lermond, Miss Marie Riel, Miss Margaret Beattie and Raymond Beattie. Mr. Hoyt was assisted in the communion service by Rev. H. W. Norton.

In the evening there were about one hundred and sixty-five people present. Interesting reports of the Boys' Conference at Lewiston were given by Robert Libby, Howard Beattie, Arthur Risteen and Llewellyn Oliver.

At the J. R. Pearson Company factory they have lately installed a rest room and made arrangement for music during the lunch hour, giving their employees privileges that are not enjoyed in all places of employment.

Margaret C. (Williams) Brown, Thomaston friends were shocked and saddened when the news came that Margaret Brown had died at her home in Brooklyn in the early morning of Sunday, Jan. 25. After an illness of about a week she succumbed to an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Brown was born in Thomaston Jan. 9, 1891, and had thus just passed the age of 29. After graduating at the Thomaston High School she took a course in the Rockland Business College. But her real bent was toward the profession of nursing for which she prepared at the Bellevue Hospital in New York where she took high rank as a student. After graduation she practiced in New York with the greatest success, having among her patrons some of the most distinguished residents of the city, among them Mrs. Findlay-Shepard and Mrs. George Gould. March 14, 1917 in "The Little Church Around the Corner" she was married to Capt. Earl Brown of Thomaston. Their married life of less than three years has been one of ideal happiness and the sympathy of hosts of friends goes out to her husband in his hour of affliction.

Mrs. Brown was a woman of most lovable character. She was always considerate and thoughtful of those about her. When taken to the hospital during her last illness those who attended her said that she who had always been kind and helpful to others in the days of her strength should have the best of care in the hour of her need. But care proved unavailing. She leaves a host of friends who mourn deeply the taking away of one who not only was kindly loved but who seemed to have everything to live for. Our hearts go out to the mother and the husband so sorely stricken and the child who has been deprived of the tender care of one of the best of mothers.

Rev. Nathaniel B. Cook, who had occupied several Methodist pulpits in this part of the State died at his home in Dennisport, Mass., last week.

At the Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning the following people were baptized: Mrs. C. O. Turner, Miss Christine Turner, Miss Ruth Lermond and Miss Mildred Dowling. These people were received into full membership: Mrs. C. O. Turner, Mrs. Bowdoin Lermond, Miss Marie Riel, Miss Margaret Beattie and Raymond Beattie. Mr. Hoyt was assisted in the communion service by Rev. H. W. Norton.

In the evening there were about one hundred and sixty-five people present. Interesting reports of the Boys' Conference at Lewiston were given by Robert Libby, Howard Beattie, Arthur Risteen and Llewellyn Oliver.

Edgar Lineken returned to the University of Maine Saturday.

Don't forget that the three-act farce "Patty Makes Things Hum" will be given at the Baptist vestry Wednesday evening at 8 p. m. When given in Rockland last week it drew good houses and was highly successful.

Next Sunday morning at the Baptist church the boys who attended the Boys' Conference at Lewiston last week will give their impressions of the trip.

At the J. R. Pearson Company factory they have lately installed a rest room and made arrangement for music during the lunch hour, giving their employees privileges that are not enjoyed in all places of employment.

Margaret C. (Williams) Brown, Thomaston friends were shocked and saddened when the news came that Margaret Brown had died at her home in Brooklyn in the early morning of Sunday, Jan. 25. After an illness of about a week she succumbed to an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Brown was born in Thomaston Jan. 9, 1891, and had thus just passed the age of 29. After graduating at the Thomaston High School she took a course in the Rockland Business College. But her real bent was toward the profession of nursing for which she prepared at the Bellevue Hospital in New York where she took high rank as a student. After graduation she practiced in New York with the greatest success, having among her patrons some of the most distinguished residents of the city, among them Mrs. Findlay-Shepard and Mrs. George Gould. March 14, 1917 in "The Little Church Around the Corner" she was married to Capt. Earl Brown of Thomaston. Their married life of less than three years has been one of ideal happiness and the sympathy of hosts of friends goes out to her husband in his hour of affliction.

Mrs. Brown was a woman of most lovable character. She was always considerate and thoughtful of those about her. When taken to the hospital during her last illness those who attended her said that she who had always been kind and helpful to others in the days of her strength should have the best of care in the hour of her need. But care proved unavailing. She leaves a host of friends who mourn deeply the taking away of one who not only was kindly loved but who seemed to have everything to live for. Our hearts go out to the mother and the husband so sorely stricken and the child who has been deprived of the tender care of one of the best of mothers.

ROCKPORT

Mrs. Eunice Copeland Hodge of Boston is the guest of Mrs. Herbert Coates.

It has been found necessary to postpone for one week the meeting of the Rockport High School Parents' Association, which was to have been held today. The proper notice will appear next issue.

WEST LIBERTY

Albra L. Haves, a lifelong resident of this town, died at his home Jan. 26, after a very brief illness. Mr. Haves was a man who worked very hard every day of his life, and one who was ever ready day or night, to respond to the call of sickness, going at times as far as 100 miles to help those who were ill or to help in any way those afflicted. He was a faithful husband and a kind father to his six children, namely Mrs. Bert E. Cunningham, Mrs. Willis Turner, son Edwin and Gladys Haves of Liberty, Mrs. George Meadows of Belfast, and son Fred Burley of Knox, also a cousin E. Hamilton, who came from Worcester to attend the funeral services, which were held at his late home, State Missionary W. E. Overlock of Washington officiating. Interment was held at Lake View cemetery. In Mr. Haves' 28 years of life he made many friends who will miss him for when a hired man was wanted they always knew where to find one. The many friends of this bereaved family extend their fullest sympathy in this, their days of sorrow.

January went out hard. Saturday the ice froze nearly across the channel. It was 14 below zero at White Head; 18 below at the Spruce Head; postoffice and 22 below at the Waterman and Foster farms. The wind blew a gale all day and it is no warmer today. Yesterday the vapor nearly put Hiss Island off the map as far as we could see but there was no vapor to be seen this morning, proving that the ice had made out. Ernest Meservey says he never knew the glass to run so low on White Head before. It is dandy sledding. Mr. Waterman reports one foot of snow in the woods.

I have been thinking my clam water item last week was taken for a joke. The water from steamed, hot boiled clams, with a few cracker crumbs, a little pepper and butter, will sure move the bowels, please the palate, nourish the body and heal a sore throat. Ask any old drinker of outwaded alcohol what clam water has done for him. Clams were always on tap at least once a week in all the up-to-date bars in all the coast cities.

Mrs. Snow received a discouraging report from her husband Sunday. She expects to go to Portland Monday to see him. Mr. Snow's son of the Biddeford Pool Coast Guard Station has been with his father much of the time the past week.

Eggs have dropped in price ten cents the past week. Our hens didn't lay as many in January as they did in December. A. B. Waterman's 175 hens laid 162 eggs the coldest day last week. We have a hen hatching out some chicks today, no artificial hen either. Agnes Meservey showed me an egg the past week that the postmaster marked strong 4 ounces. It would take just 6 of them to equal a dozen of fair sized eggs.

James D. Fisk came down last Monday after some young folks that had been visiting on Twobush. They were waiting for him on the main. If James had waited a little while he could have driven over to the island for them. Mr. Fisk is a very handy man when wanted. He was down here twice last week when it was hard to get a team from Rockland to drive down.

The school is closed again for want of wood. Not because there is no wood to be bought, the farmers near here have plenty. Men and teams are hard to get. Some teams are obliged to haul wood Sunday.

It is an old saying that everything comes to them that wait. Yesterday in all the cold some nice smokes blew in on us by parcel post and at order of a bundle of something to read. Small favors are always thankfully received and larger ones in proportion.

The regular services of the Baptist church were held in the vestry of the newly remodeled church last Sunday. The members of the parish are anxiously awaiting the time when the repairs shall be fully completed and they are able to enjoy fully their beautiful church home.

The rooms of the Business Men's Club have been re-arranged during the past week adding much to the convenience and enjoyments of the members. The card tables have been moved into the billiard room, leaving the former card room for a lounging and reading room. A new lighting system has been installed and the rooms are to be newly varnished and painted. The membership list has been increased from 250 to 300 and quite a few new members are availing themselves of the comforts and benefits of this attractive and popular club.

The Philatelia Class of the Baptist church will be entertained at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Thomas M. Griffiths Wednesday evening. Luncheon will be served at six o'clock and an interesting musical program has been arranged for the evening.

The annual meeting of the Camden Cemetery Association will be held at the Selectmen's room Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Officers will be elected for the year and steps will be taken for starting construction of a mortuary chapel at the cemetery.

Dr. Wilson D. Burton, District Deputy Grand High Priest of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Maine, inspected Stevens Chapter at Newport and Mt. Keba Chapter at Bar Harbor last week and was well pleased with his reception and the prosperous condition of both chapters. Two more chapters, Yarmouth and Damariscotta, are on his list for the year's inspection.

The first degree will be conferred on a class of candidates at the regular meeting of Mt. Battie Lodge of Odd Fellows this Tuesday evening.

The continued cold weather of the last few days results some of the cold recorded in former years. Saturday's temperature of sixteen below zero was within three degrees of the coldest record for six years. The thermometer reached nineteen below, Feb. 12, 1914. Last year the lowest level reached was zero on Jan. 12. Feb. 12, 1917 and Feb. 5, 1918, fourteen below was recorded. While we are on the subject of cold weather it might make you feel more comfortable to learn that the lowest temperature ever recorded was taken at Werchojansk in the interior of Siberia January 15, 1885, the temperature being ninety degrees below zero. The earth then is frozen to the depth of one hundred feet and in the warmest season it never thaws.

During the month of January, 7 deaths, 5 marriages and 2 births were recorded in town. One death occurring in Boston.

Harold Marshall of Cobb's Market was preparing to retire Friday night, when there came a knock at the door and Mrs. Marshall admitted the other members of the staff. And Harold was brought to a speedy realization that it was his birthday. Arrived in the smoking jacket which his associates had brought him, and smoking the fine pipe which also helped express their regards he had every appearance of being a happy and contented host. Supper was served and a general good time was enjoyed.

The Thursday Charity Club meets this week at the Country Club.

Miss Carrie Field arrived home last evening from a fortnight's visit in Boston, a part of which time she devoted to entertaining an attack of the influenza which is so prevalent in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Brown arrived from their wedding journey Thursday night and are at their home, 48 Middle street.

Mrs. Millie Thomas entertained the N. M. L. and Octagon Clubs at her home on Robinson street Friday evening, the occasion being a farewell reception in honor of Mrs. George W. Britto, who is about to take up her residence in Villa Nova, Penn. Auction was the principal diversion, the prizes being won by Mrs. Mida Packard, Mrs. A. J. Larrabee and Mrs. Henry L. Higgins. Mrs. Britto was presented with a cut glass salad dish, which will be a treasured memento of her very happy association with the two clubs mentioned, the other members of which very deeply regret the departure of Mrs. Britto and her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Robbins have gone to Auburn, Mass., on a visit.

The ladies circle of the Littlefield Memorial church will serve a circle supper in the church vestry Wednesday at 6 o'clock.

Miss Edith Bicknell, who has been five weeks in Dr. Fildes' hospital, Portland, arrived home last evening, accompanied by her father, F. J. Bicknell. It is Miss Bicknell's third successive hospital experience and the result is highly favorable.

Many excellent examples of the smart suit showing solid-colored jackets with striped or plaid skirts are being received with favor, says the Dry Goods Economist, and although not many are worn at present in the North, quantities of them have been sold for Southern wear. The spring will undoubtedly see their adoption with the usual enthusiasm accorded to the garment which deviates ever so slightly from the ordinary conventional, tailored suit. The accordeon-pleated skirt gives this type of suit the slim line, retaining the hint of fullness which advance styles proclaim to be de rigueur. It also gives a youthful look, and takes away the binding effect that made the prospect of very short skirts so objectionable to many people.

The Harmony Club has a picnic supper at the home of the president, Mrs. Madeline Lawrence, Wednesday night. Members will bring dishes and silver. Any member unable to attend is asked to notify the president.

Paul Fredericks, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Barbour, celebrated his 5th birthday Jan. 24 by entertaining a few of his young associates with a 6 o'clock dinner party. The feature of the dinner was a birthday cake with five illuminated candles. Victrola selections and games kept the little folks enjoyably occupied. Master Paul was the recipient of some very choice remembrances. The guests departed in the early evening with best wishes for their host.

Mrs. Howard G. Philbrook and Donald H. Fuller are down from Boston on a short visit at their Rockland home.

The twenty-first anniversary of the wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Nelson McDougall fell on Sunday, and was observed by them by a small dinner at the Thorndike to which 15 of their friends sat down. Following the discussion a menu of suppers, the guests departed in the early evening to the Beech street home of the hosts, where the evening was spent.

George W. Britto left this morning for Villa Nova, Penn., where he has an excellent position as foreman on the estate of J. Keirstley Mitchell, who has a summer home at Islesboro.

Late reports received by Arthur Horton tell of the continued improvement of his son, Harold, who has been ill with pneumonia at his home in Woodford. It is believed that the crisis is past.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will be held Friday, at 2 p. m. in the American Legion rooms. A large attendance is desired, to listen to plans for the French Government Commemorative to be held Feb. 22, which will be outlined by Commander Butler and Chaplain Pratt of Winslow-Holbrook Post.

BELFAST IS HAPPY

Closely following the news that Belfast is soon to have a $100,000 school building and a $270,000 bridge comes an equally welcome piece of news from the State Road Department at Augusta that a state road of macadam to cost about $100,000, will be begun early in the spring the full length of the 2½ miles of Seaport avenue. This has always been an expensive section of the city's highways and difficult to keep in good condition. The road will be similar to that between Camden and Rockland—Belfast Journal.

What I said in last Saturday's issue of The Squeez-Gee (that's the name I call it to the Boss, to make him mad,) about welcomin' letters and things from patient readers goes. Household resents or advice on bald hair or questions about what your going to do when the rent comes round are hereafter going to be referred to me and I'll see that they get printed. Folks who for years have been tryin' to break into print and got turned down by His Nibs in the front office through jealousy that readers would like their pieces better than his are at last going to get justice.

Only one piece has come in since I last wrote and that is a kind of fancy piece about birds, but's good dope all the same and here it is.

Yours for the birds, Mickie

Feeding the Birds

Rockland, Sunday, Feb. 1. Mickie Dear: I am just a robin red-breast, out in the cold. If you think your life is hard, try mine. I can't find any worms or bugs or seeds when the snow and ice cover everything. Nobody in winter remembers me or my brother birds. I took refuge under a newspaper that had blown into a fence corner last night, and saw your picture in it and read what you said about The Courier-Gazette. I thought if it's such a good paper it might be willing to ask the people who read it to throw out some seeds and crumbs for us birds. We will pay them back when it warms up by eating the bugs that bother them. Keep up the good work, Mickie—and say, if you have any suet! We note on that, for it helps to keep us warm.

U. S. TO DECIDE

Former Attorney General Wickersham, an ardent pro-league, objects to the fourth Lodge reservation which reserves to the United States the right to determine what are its domestic questions. He says such a reservation would remove from the jurisdiction of the league "a series of questions of the highest importance, peculiarly provocative of international difficulty." The covenant specifically excepts "domestic questions" from the operation of the league, but unless the United States is to determine what are its domestic questions that exception is practically nullified.

A "FROST," MAYBE

"Bring a warm overcoat" is the advice again by G. H. Willson, district forecaster to every person who plans to attend the national Democratic convention in San Francisco, June 28. Willson's records, dating to 1871, show that 3.4 degrees is the average mean temperature for the four days beginning June 27.

MARTIN E. WATSON

Remembering that he felt better than he had at any other time since his accident last spring, Martin E. Watson went to Empire Theatre Saturday evening in the performance of his new duties as janitor of that establishment. He sat down in the balcony, near the moving picture machine, and in a few moments fell from his chair in a faint. His son-in-law, Oscar Delheim, who was acting as operator at Park Theatre, was summoned, and in a few moments Mr. Watson revived sufficiently to talk. A second fainting spell followed. Dr. Armstrong was called, but Mr. Watson's death was almost immediate, and an apparently painless ending. He was a victim of heart disease and for some months past had been expecting that the end would come in this manner.

Mr. Watson lacked only nine days of attaining his 42d birthday. He was born in Friendship and lived for a short time in Thomaston before coming to this city about 25 years ago. He was employed for many years at the lime kilns, but last spring, while helping remove a building which stood on the site of Studley's new furniture store, he fell through the roof and received serious injuries. Since that time his only active work had been as watchman at the sardine factory, and his work last week as janitor at Empire Theatre.

He had served on the special police force for quite a number of years, and at one time was also a member of the fire department. He was a good worker, generally hearty and had many friends. Mr. Watson's wife died 13 years ago. He is survived by two children, Mrs. Oscar Delheim and Miss Theresa Watson; an adopted son, Fred Bradley, whose home is in Aroostook county; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Thompson of Fort Clyde, and Mrs. Sadie Newbert of Rockland; and one brother, David Watson of Rockland. The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. J. S. Crossland of the Methodist church officiating.

PLEASANT POINT

Rain is needed badly. Our well has gone dry and several of our neighbor's wells are getting very low.

Those who have filled their ice houses recently are Al Carlo, George Cazalis, R. E. Dunn, W. J. Morse and L. O. Young and it looks as if there was ice enough left to fill several more houses.

Miss Eva Shuman is visiting friends in Friendship. Some of our young people attended the party at John Olson's South Cushing Friday evening. A most enjoyable time.

The Courier-Gazette correspondent has 57 pullets which have laid 755 eggs during the month of January.

Capt. J. O. Chadwick, who has been confined to the house with a lame back for the past two weeks, is now able to be out. Byron Wavis has been ill the past week and several others have had colds.

Ferdinand Morse has been improving the fine sledding the past week by having wood for his neighbors.

The ladies here are earning big wages making rugs for a Portland firm. Some are getting as high as $6 and $7 a week besides doing their house work.

Our genial stage driver D. L. Maloney has not missed a single trip during the winter. Some morning he says he is thinking of attending school here.

Our local sportsmen, Al and Dick say the snow is too deep to hunt for rabbits and they are now spending their leisure hours chopping wood. Al says he has always been on time.

Mrs. A. C. Campbell and Miss Frances Campbell were in Rockland Friday.

The river between here and Friendship is frozen so that teams can now drive across from Ansel One's shore to Friendship harbor. Another week of zero weather and we can sleigh ride to Monhegan.

Mrs. Grace Maloney was in Rockland Wednesday.
